INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR REVIEW

The International Labour Review is a scientific popular publication containing articles, statistics, and in formation relating to labour and industry, of interest and value to employers, workers, and governments. It contains, in addition to articles for which the International Labour Office is responsible, contributions by well-known economists, employers, and trade union leaders of their views on questions of the day. The Review appears in English and French; in conformity with the Peace Treaty, it may also be published in other languages later.
